EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Health Promotion Dietitian (1 Full Time Position)

Our teams provide primary health care through a range of options including prevention, assessment, diagnosis and treatment. Team members include health professionals, educators, and support workers representing both traditional Anishinaabe and contemporary models of care, and use wholistic health and community development concepts.

The position will support community members and clients to address food security issues, adopt healthier eating habits and more active lifestyles to reduce risk factors for developing diabetes and other chronic diseases. The position will also increase capacity for screening and early identification to reduce secondary impacts, and assist clients with self-management by supporting Health Promoters in their prevention roles, and providing direct services to clients.

NOTE: Anishinaabe traditional practices involving burning sacred medicines including tobacco, sweetgrass, sage and cedar and other cultural protocols occur regularly within our work setting.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Current registration with College of Dietitians of Ontario; certified or eligible for certification as a Certified Diabetes Educator;
- Willing to work to full scope including performing delegated acts through medical directives;
- Experience working in an Anishinaabe organization - ability to understand and speak Anishinaabemowin a definite asset;
- Demonstrated competency in developing and implementing culturally relevant and appropriate health promotion strategies;
- Experience and demonstrated ability to work within a wholistic care model; able to work independently and be an effective team member;
- Willingness and ability to travel;
- Valid drivers' license and own vehicle required;
- Proof of immunization in compliance with policy requirements is mandatory;
- Current criminal records check required;
- Commitment to ongoing training and professional development relevant to job requirements;
- Positive attitude and capacity to act as a healthy lifestyle role model.

This position is part of the Ontario Nurses Association Bargaining Unit.
